They may behave better short-term, but there is a cost to. They will thank you for it down the road. This is so true. I am a parent I am an educator I am a professional. Many of the recent best-selling parenting books share this same message: . If they are able to play by themselves, read by themselves, or just enjoy being we are honest about our own emotions and our own shortcomings, we open a pathway for communication with our kids and build the foundation for trust. Believe me, I know this from our summer camp.
